

Strait was the daughter of the late J. H. Abernathy and was born near Catawba Junction about 73 years ago. She was for many years a devoted member of the Presbyterian church in Chester county and the funeral was conducted from that edifice Saturday afternoon by Rev. F. W. Greig. Mr. Strait is survived by five sons. They are J. W. L. J., and F. S. Strait of Rock Hill, and T. E. and J. W. Strait who live on the Strait home place on Fishing Creek, Yorkville, La.

The Chester Graded school football eleven defeated the Yorkville Graded school team in a game played on the Chester field last Friday afternoon. The score was 53 to 0. Soon after the game was started, Andral Sherer was hit and knocked out. The player on the Yorkville team had the misfortune to have his collar bone broken. With Sherer out of the game it was easy for the Chester boys to score at will and the score was therefore not surprising. Young Sherer will be unable to play any more this year and it is doubtful if the Yorkville boys will engage in any more games on that account.

May Operate Creamery Again. Mr. W. Mason Stowe of Yorkville No. 1, who is largely interested in the Yorkville creamery, said yesterday that it was barely possible that the creamery will be operated again in the near future. Mr. Stowe said that the owners of the plant, which was built for the purpose of producing 200 cases of cream a day, had agreed to sell their butterfat to the creamery. The plant can be made to pay expenses and if the milk of 200 cases can be secured, the creamery can be operated at a profit. Mr. Stowe said that he was engaged in trying to get farmers to pledge this cream to the plant and that he was meeting with some success. He expressed doubt as to whether the product of 200 cases could be secured.

Runaway Convict Caught. While out buying cattle yesterday afternoon, Mr. C. F. Sherer of Yorkville, witnessed and participated in quite an interesting and exciting race by officers and bloodhounds after an escaped convict. The convict was Duncan and Belue of Blacksburg, and the convict was Virgil, or "Bull Dog" Childers, notorious in years but old in crime. The part of the race that Mr. Sherer saw occurred on the road between Whites place and the jail. The race included the catch. "Bull Dog" had been accurately located and prettily surrounded by the officers. Mr. Sherer said that the convict was running down a hollow, until he came to a place where he was posted in such a way as to hold him off, and then he bolted through a dense thicket of cotton near Belue, who caught him with a pistol, and brought him to a halt. "I knowed you was going to get him," said the negro. "Well, what you run for?" he was asked. "I thought it would be the dogs, some officers," he replied. "We have not seen such evidence," Greenville Piedmont.

Visited Bull Weevil Section. Rock Hill Herald: A. E. Hutchison has returned from a business trip through parts of Alabama and Georgia and returns convinced more than ever that this is one of the most progressive sections to be found in the south. He believes that the people of this community are in better shape than are those in a large majority of the sections throughout the south. Mr. Hutchison was especially impressed with the devastation by the boll weevil in the western edge of Georgia and in Alabama. He saw the fields in which the weevil had appeared and it would take at least twenty acres to produce a bale in many fields. The weevil has disrupted conditions generally, despite the fact that ample warning of its coming had been given and the people had had time to turn from cotton. There is indication as to the next step throughout the section. Not only did Mr. Hutchison talk with the business men, but he was out among the farmers and spent a goodly portion of his time with some of them. He is afflicted with the rich landholder and the tenant system, even the laws being largely in favor of the landholder. The latter gets along the best he can, which is quite poorly. The negro tenants in this part of the country are in as good a position as the white tenants in Alabama, he says. Mr. Hutchison talked diversification quite extensively with the cotton growers and the latter are interested quite a number of farmers and landowners with his statements as to what has been accomplished along diversification lines in this community during the past few years. He is firmly convinced that the boll weevil will hit the South Carolina cotton crop and believes that the sooner the farmers prepare to turn loose with the cotton crop the better will be their position when the pest actually arrives.

Spartanburg, October 23: The closest secrecy surrounds the origin and elimination of petitions for the removal of Mayor John F. Floyd and Commissioners Waller and Fielder from office—but as a matter of fact, the removal of these petitions are in circulation and according to the information available there appears in certain quarters a determined effort to secure a necessary 20 per cent of the qualified voters, which is required before the "recall" petitions are one in the office of Governor Manning for his action. MERE-MENTION. Tampa, Fla., cigar factories last week shipped more than 3,000,000 cigars. The Amsterdam correspondent of Reuters' Telegram company, says that according to advices from Berlin, Germany, the federal council has forbidden the sale on two days of each week of dishes consisting of meat. Clark Warren, his brother, J. E. Warren and Charles Clements have been arrested with the murder of Clark Warren's wife at Abbeville, South Carolina. It was supposed at the time of Mrs. Warren's death that she committed suicide by poison, but later developments tend to show that she was murdered. Thirty thousand men and women marched through the streets of New York on a suffrage parade on Saturday. Private Herman E. Moore of the Fourth United States Infantry, was probably fatally injured in a skirmish between United States soldiers and a band of Mexican outlaws near Brownsville, Tex., on Sunday. Frank R. Voorhes, broker's agent engaged in buying munitions for the Allies, was killed in his home in Chicago, Ill., Saturday night. Robbery is believed to have been the motive of the murders. William Stoldt, a farmer of Troy, Mich., and six members of his family, were killed Sunday when an automobile in which they were riding, was struck by a passenger train near Frazier, Mich.

The State Tax Commission.—The Piedmont has heretofore refrained from expressions of approval or disapproval of the actions of the tax commission. There was such general complaint as to the actions of the commission that the Piedmont assumed to express its opinion. The recent public statement of the commission makes us doubt this. The banks have been most vociferous in their complaints. Yet the statement of the commission is very clear and the assessments of the state have not been increased. The assessments in one county have been increased and in another lowered. In the same county, one bank has been responsibly lowered. Complaints are vociferous from the banks. Nothing is heard from those whose assessments are reduced. The reduction is comparatively accepted.

There has been no doubt that there is need of an intelligent change in the mode of assessments in the state. Any change that has been made in the board of equalization must have been impressed both with the inequality of the assessment as between different characters of property as well as with irregularity existing between those of the same class. It would seem that the Piedmont that the first step of the tax commission must have been, as it was, to equalize assessments of the same class of property. What Does This Mean?—Members of the New York cotton exchange have decided to vote October 27 on the proposed amendment to the by-laws curtailing the privileges of aliens elected to membership after November 1, 1915. The purpose of proposed change, of course, was to make the exchange a distinctly American institution. The change would prevent activities in cotton during present international complications which are said to be contemplated by foreign agents. Associated Press dispatch.
